AN EXPLANATION OF CONTENTS AND ARRANGEMENTS

The statistical records of this church were kept in five books. The Swedish Lutheran records were recorded in Book 1 and covered the period from 1713 to approximately 1786. These records were translated and compiled by the Federal Writers' Project, Works Progress Administration (WPA) and were published in 1938 under the title of "Records of the Swedish Lutheran Churches at Raccoon and Penn's Neck." Copies of this book may be consulted in most major libraries. The records herein contained were recorded in four books beginning with Book 2 through Book 5, which is the current register. The combination of the Swedish records plus those published here, cover all of the available records for the years 1713 through 1975.

The Vestry of Trinity Church graciously permitted the old books to be microfilmed. They then gave permission to the compiler to transcribe the records and to the Gloucester County Historical Society to publish them. Most of the statistical records were transcribed from the microfilm, except the records from 1967 to 1975 which were taken from photocopies made by the Gloucester County Historical Society for this purpose. The expense of microfilming was shared with the compiler by Mr. L. K. Gottshalk, former president of the Society. The Society bore the expense of typing the manuscript in preparation for publication and the cost of publication. The Reverend and Mrs. Parker F. Auten generously granted the compiler the facilities of the rectory in which to research other records and documents. The actual printing of this book was accomplished by several volunteers in the print shop of the Society.

In compiling this material, an effort was made to retain the original spelling and punctuation. Changes were made simply for the sake of clarity. In some cases the form or style of recording by various ministers was altered somewhat in order to simplify the use of this book. Some entries were written and then crossed out in the books. For their possible value, they have been copied and crossed out as in the original.

Inaccurate recording by some ministers resulted in a number of variations in the spelling of not only surnames but of given names also. It is absolutely essential that the researcher carefully examine every possible variation. Names that were illegible to the compiler or were in some way in doubt, were transcribed in parenthesis with a question mark (....?). One glaring error, for example, is the recording of the death of Col. Thomas Heston of Glassboro, in 1802, who was recorded as Col. Thomas "Hastings." An examination of the microfilm will convince one of the difficulty encountered with some entries.

The practice of recording the cause of death was carried on for a short time by several ministers but eventually abandoned. This was begun in 1798 by the Reverend John Croes but discontinued by his successor, the Reverend Henry James Feltus, who wrote, "I find it (so) extremely difficult to obtain authentic information of the disorders that I think it proper to introduce Reverend Mr. Croes' former plan" (of not recording such information). Several ministers at times have reintroduced this information into the records and then discontinued it. This information, when available, has again been included by the present (1975) rector. On account of space limitations, this sporadic information has not been included in this book. Also not included are some notations by various ministers mostly undated and incomplete, viz; a diagram of pews, a sketch showing fruit trees behind the parsonage, and miscellaneous financial statements. Regretfully, a list of memorials in the church is omitted because of the space problem. This information is on the microfilm.

Despite the many problems and difficulties in transcribing the old records, nothing was overlooked in an effort to carefully produce an accurate copy of the original. The microfilm and other material may be seen at the Library of the Gloucester County Historical Society at 17 Hunter Street in Woodbury, New Jersey. In any case where there is a doubt as to the accuracy of a transcription, the microfilm should be consulted.

From that day in March 1967, when Kep Gottshalk and the Reverend Parker Auten carried the church books to Philadelphia to be microfilmed, until the completion of this project, many people contributed to the final result. We shall always be grateful to those listed and to many others, for their help in making this volume a reality.

Trinity Episcopal Church is located on the northwest corner of King's Highway (County Route 551) and Church Street in Swedesboro, Gloucester County, New Jersey. For persons travelling north or south, Swedesboro is easily accessible from the New Jersey Turnpike, Interstate Route 295, or U. S. Route 130. From an east-west direction it may be reached from U. S. Route 322.

Two Trinity Church burial sites are mentioned in the "Burials" section of this book. For persons seeking gravesites, please note that there are two separate locations. Burials recorded as "buried at Trinity (B.A.Tr.)" or Trinity Churchyard" or simply "Church," indicate that the burial took place in the graveyard surrounding the church. The other location designated as "New Episcopal" or "Episcopal" is west of the church on Church Street, between Second and Third Streets in Swedesboro.

New Sweden Park, dedicated in 1964, marks the site of the original log church. It is within the churchyard, north of the church, and may be visited at any time.

Services are conducted regularly in the church. Groups or individuals who wish to see the interior of the church, at other times, may do so by making an appointment with the rector. The rectory is diagonally across from the church at 208 King's Highway in Swedesboro.

I N T R O D U C T I O N

A semblance of affiliation by Trinity Episcopal Church, Swedesboro, with the Episcopal Church in America, actually began on October 24, 1789. On that date the corporation known as the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Church at Swedesborough, after some discussion, engaged as a Reader a young Episcopal divinity student by the name of John Croes for a "tryal" period of six months.

The last Swedish rector, the Reverend Nicholas Collin, had in 1785 requested of the Consistory in Sweden, a transfer to the parishes of Wicaco, Kingsessing, and Upper Merion, in Pennsylvania. In 1791, Collin wrote, "On this request his majesty was pleased, by resolve of the 10th August 1785, to appoint me rector of those congregations, and also to leave Raccoon (Swedesboro) and Penn's Neck vacant, until they should express their option of the king's future regulation for the Swedish mission." This resolution was, "Whereas the congregation in their present mature state must be sufficiently able to support their minister; and whereas they had nearly lost the language of their ancestors, which was a principal tye of their connection with Sweden; - Therefore the congregations could not in the future obtain any ministers from Sweden without a formal stipulation to defray the whole expense of the voyage in coming and returning, and to afford them a decent support during their continuance in the Ministry." The congregations at Raccoon and Penn's Neck, due to their poor financial condition could make no such commitment and as a consequence the churches were without a regular minister after the Reverend Collin left the parish to assume his new duties early in 1786.

Later, Collin wrote, "During the vacancy I gave the congregations every attention consistent with my distant situation and multiplicity of business. At Swedesborough I performed divine service every third Sunday during the summer and autumn of 1786; and by longer intervals the two following years. I likewise visited some worthy members in their sickness; and preached some funeral services. I made frequent journeys for settling the business of the new church."

John Croes in his "Record of Proceedings" states that after a vacancy of two years, the Reverend John Wade officiated in the church for one year. Wade, according to Collin, had been ordained in the German Lutheran Church. The records of the Moravian Church at Oldman's Creek show that a John Wade served in that church during 1748 and 1749. The Reverend Christian Street (Streit) of Virginia, a German Lutheran minister, was offered the rectorship of the church at Swedesboro in 1788 and actually visited the parish. In September of 1789 he notified the vestry that he must with respect decline the offer.

Some writers erroneously assign the year 1786 as the beginning of Episcopal domination at Trinity. However, the records speak for themselves and show that following his trial period and ordination as Deacon, the Reverend John Croes on February 28, 1790, became the first Episcopal minister to serve Trinity Episcopal Church, Swedesboro. He was ordained a Priest in 1792 and from the "Proceedings of a Convention" of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the State of New Jersey in June of 1792, we find among the clerical members of the convention for the first time the name of John Croes, representing Trinity Episcopal Church, Swedesborough. Reproduced in this book are portions of two pages of the journal which show that on the first day of the convention, Reverend Croes produced his letters of orders as Deacon and Priest, signed by the Right Reverend Bishop White and his certificate of induction as rector of Trinity Church, Swedesborough, signed by Mounce Keen and Benjamin Rambo, church wardens.

The transition from the Swedish Lutheran Church to the Protestant Episcopal Church at Swedesboro seems to have been accomplished without a formal declaration by the vestry, the congregation, or the Episcopal Diocese, and there are no documents among the records that show how this was accomplished. Although it seems that the Reverend Croes and the church officials may have intended to change the corporate name to the Protestant Episcopal Church at Swedesborough, a thorough search of the Gloucester County Clerk's records shows no recording of the new name although a state law at that time required such action. The county records show that real estate transactions by the rector, wardens, and vestrymen, continued to be conducted under the corporate name of The Swedish Lutheran Church at Raccoon. One hundred and sixty-two years later, on April 15, 1952, the vestry adopted a resolution stating that, "Our present name, the Evangelical Lutheran Church be legally changed to Trinity Episcopal Church, Swedesboro." It will be noted in the records that follow that John Croes, without explanation, simply titled his records as "Record of the Proceedings of the Corporation of the Protestant Episcopal Church at Swedesborough called Trinity Church, late the Swedish Lutheran Evangelical Church, during the Pastoral Care of the Rev'd John Croes."

On April 24, 1801, after serving this church for more than eleven years, Reverend Croes asked to be relieved of his duties in order to accept a call from the vestry of Christ's Church at New Brunswick, New Jersey and to accept an offer from the trustees of Queen's College at the same place. He became the first Episcopal Bishop of New Jersey in 1815.

On Trinity Sunday, May 28, 1809, two hundred and fifty-one persons were confirmed in Trinity Church, Swedesborough, by Bishop White of Pennsylvania. They were presented by the rector, Simon Wilmer. This was the first Episcopal Confirmation Service at Trinity Church and the first such service ever held in the State of New Jersey.

There are numerous publications which deal with the coming of the Swedes and the establishment of their churches, therefore, it was the original intent of the compiler to limit this introduction solely to Trinity Episcopal Church, Swedesboro. However, it is impossible to tell of the beginning of this church without involving its predecessor the Swedish Lutheran Church at Raccoon, and it would be exceedingly improper not to give to the Reverend Nicholas Collin the credit and distinction he so deservedly earned.

It all began a long time ago and there is some controversy as to the exact date of its beginning. Among the records of Trinity Church is an old survey map which has been reproduced in this book. It was drawn and signed by Richard Bull, deputy surveyor, on March 28, 1702, (O.S.), and shows a structure marked "church" facing Raccoon Creek. The 1703 deed for the church property is also reproduced here. It describes part of the property as, "being that parcell of Land whereon the Church is Erected." This indicates that the church building existed prior to the drawing of the deed. This was not an unusual practice during that period. All of the facts point to the existence of the Raccoon church prior to March 28, 1702.

For the Swedes who had migrated to the easterly side of the Delaware, attending divine services posed a problem. At first they attended a church on Tinicum Island until the churches were built at Christina (Wilmington) and at Wicaco (Philadelphia). The people who lived near Raccoon were expected to attend at Wicaco. The trip over the river in a flat boat or canoe was at best a hazardous one especially in bad weather with the wind blowing and the tide running. There were many accidents and near accidents especially in winter when floating ice in the river posed a definite threat of destruction. It wasn't long before these people decided that a church of their own was an absolute necessity.

Swedish historian, Amandus Johnson, tells us that to keep the New Jersey Swedes together and loyal to the Swedish Church, a school teacher by the name of Hans Stalt was stationed at Raccoon. Although the Reverend Bjork at Christina and the Reverend Rudman at Wicaco had attempted to conduct occasional services here, it was not always possible and Stalt, the school teacher, was instructed to conduct "lay services" on Sundays and holidays at Raccoon.

Late in 1701, there arrived in Philadelphia a Swedish clergyman, Lars Tollstadius. While in Sweden he had heard of a position to be filled in America and had applied for the job. Upon investigation it was found that something in his past made him unsuitable and he was denied permission to leave Sweden. He somehow left anyway and upon arriving in America presented himself to the Reverend Rudman at Wicaco as his successor. Rudman was suspicious since Tollstadius could produce no credentials, but being in poor health, he agreed to let Tollstadius serve the church for six months. It wasn't long before the real replacement, a Reverend Andreas Sandel, arrived and exposed Tollstadius who was ordered not to preach again in these parts and to return to Sweden. There was apparently nothing wrong with his qualifications as a minister if one would exclude his questionable reputation. He had made friends during his stay and some of these friends were Swedes and Finns from New Jersey. A little thing like a questionable reputation did not stop the Raccoon people from propositioning him to come over to be their minister. By that time they were willing to settle for anything. A request was sent to the church authorities in Sweden to make the deal legal, but without waiting for official sanction, Tollstadius was hired and began his duties. Amandus Johnson tells us that Tollstadius succeeded in forming a congregation in the late summer or early fall of 1702. Tollstadius' indiscretions caught up with him in 1706, and he was accused of having an affair with a parishioner's daughter, and was slated for a court hearing at Burlington. Before the case went to trial, however, Tollstadius on a return trip from Philadelphia fell out of a canoe and was drowned.

The next minister at Raccoon was the Reverend Jonas Auren who had come to America with Bjork and Rudman in 1697 to view the country and make a report to the Swedish crown. He subsequently settled at Elk River in Maryland, and preached to an English congregation until he accepted an invitation to officiate at Raccoon in 1706. He died in 1713.

Swedish ministers continued to be supplied to the church although there were often vacancies. For a short time, in 1748, Raccoon became the seat of Swedish ecclesiastical authority in America with the arrival of the Reverend Johan Sandin. He had been appointed dean of the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Churches in America and was to serve as pastor of Raccoon and Penn's Neck churches. Sandin died in September of 1748 at Raccoon. Swedish naturalist Peter Kalm who had been travelling throughout North America, resided at Raccoon for the winter and preached in the church. He later married the widow Sandin and returned with her to Sweden in 1751. Services continued in this church under various ministers, most notable of whom was the Reverend Nicholas Collin who preached his first sermon at Raccoon on June 3, 1770.

Collin served this church through the war of the Revolution although in the latter years the old log church became almost unfit for services. In his "Accounts for the New Church," he states, "The old church, a log building erected in the year (1705) and afterward repaired from time to time, had for fifteen years been in a condition so ruinous, that public worship could not be celebrated in it without the greatest inconvenience and no small degree of danger in tempestuous weather. My worthy antecessor was prevented by a multiplicity of pressing affairs from commencing a new building; and in the distresses of the war delayed it during my time 'til a late period. In the summer of 1783, I turned my solicitous attention to this important object." This was the beginning of the present church structure.

He continues his account of the new church by telling of the awarding of the contracts, of the brick makers, masons, and carpenters, beginning their work and of the problems and interruptions of its construction. Those who had subscribed toward the building, in many cases, were unable to meet their responsibility. He further states, "It would have been impossible to erect this building by mere dint of money. The managers were therefore obliged to act as brokers, exchanging subscriptions for work, or home produce, orders upon other persons, etc. This roundabout way of dealing was, however, attended with great trouble and lots of time." With Ezekiel Foster, a carpenter and joiner, Collin made numerous trips to Philadelphia, "on business of the church to wit; in April 1784 with Mr. Foster for viewing public buildings in order to form the plan."

"At the end of May, 1784, some of the bricks were finished and the work begun, and continued as the other materials were ready. As the workmen fell ill, the roof was not erected until after the middle of November. Through the carelessness of the master mason (who indeed was a Swede and one of the committee) the bricks for the gable walls were spoiled by rain and frost, so that they must be dried before a fire. For lack of cash to pay the unwilling workmen, I had to take part in the work myself and through handling the cold and wet bricks, I caught a severe cold with rheumatism, so that my face became terribly swollen and I was ill during the entire following winter and spring."

The roof was completed in December of 1784 and work on the church was suspended during the winter. "In May, 1785, the work was again resumed and continued until March 1786, when benches, windows, balconies, etc., were completed. The paneling of the arched ceiling, the white-washing and painting, still remains, but this will be done when more money comes in. I will, however, in God's name begin Divine services in the church as soon as the vault is ready." In a later statement he said that the church was not completed until the 15th of August, 1791. He made frequent visits to the church after his transfer to Philadelphia in 1786, to preach and "for settling the business of the new church." Before moving to Philadelphia, Nicholas Collin married Hannah Fislar (Fisler) of Gloucester County on June 19, 1786.

The important part that Collin played in the erection of this beautiful church is shown by the brief excerpts from his journal and records. From the moment he conceived the idea, his efforts were untiring. He drew the plans, collected the pledges, and directed the workmen. He would often purchase material from his own funds and when necessary took part in the manual work of construction. This was his gift to posterity and beautiful Trinity Church stands as a monument to his sacrifice and devotion to the parish.

Apparently some things remained unfinished for on January 1st, 1793 at Swedesboro, another subscription was begun by the Reverend John Croes. It reads, "Whereas the finishing of the new church at Swedesboro' would tend in a great degree to its preservation, durability, and convenience - would complete the elegant plan on which it was constructed - be an evidence of the public spirit and taste of the congregation, their zeal for the glory of God, and their (__?__) sense of the great benefits derived both to society and individuals from a regular, decent and constant public worship, and as sufficient time has now elapsed for the people to have recovered from the burden it occasioned and no substantial reason can be offered for delaying any longer."

Rather than attempt a written history of Trinity Episcopal Church since 1790, it was decided that perhaps selected minutes of the vestry meetings would provide an authentic chronology of business and events in the language of the participants. No one can possibly improve on the characteristic quality of the entries. Much of the business of the wardens and vestrymen concerned the problems of ground rents in Swedesboro, and the management of several farms owned by the church. The leasing of land, collecting of rents, and maintenance of property were always on the agenda. They invested church funds and were involved in numerous real estate transactions. One interesting entry in 1834 indicates that they agreed to lend to the County of Gloucester any amount of money applied for.

We are indeed fortunate to be able to examine the records of this church and to bring to light the important historical significance of this venerable institution. From the day that the controversial Tollstadius was invited to preach at Raccoon, her people have shown an independence of character and a determination of purpose to provide for themselves a continuity of religious teaching. Their second minister, according to Amandus Johnson, was the Reverend Jonas Auren, a "Seven-Day Dunkar," who had adopted that faith after his arrival in America. During a vacancy in the pulpit in 1743, thirty-three members of the Raccoon Church invited the Moravian minister, Paul Daniel Brycelius, to preach to them. He served there for about a year until factional disturbances caused him to leave. After Collin's transfer, the Reverend John Wade, a German Lutheran, was invited to preach and he too remained for about a year. There was an invitation to another German Lutheran, the Reverend Christian Streit, to serve them but he declined because of his health and the difficulty of finding a replacement for himself in Virginia. In all probability, it was only because of the acceptance by the congregation of the young divinity student, John Croes, that this church became a Protestant Episcopal Church.

The independent attitude of the Raccoon congregation to do to suit themselves was apparent from the very beginning when they selected Tollstadius as their first minister. After his death, the Reverend Bjork reported that the Raccoon people were "more obstinate and spunky than ever."

For two hundred and seventy-five years the obstinate and spunky people of Raccoon have managed to hold unto themselves, their most cherished possession, their church. May they do so forever.

EXCERPTS FROM THE RECORDS OF THE VESTRY MEETINGS

Record of the Proceedings of the Corporation of the Protestant Episcopal Church at Swedesborough called Trinity Church late the Swedish Lutheran Evangelical Church during the Pastoral care of the Rev'd John Croes.

In consequence of the cessation of the Swedish Mission, the Wardens and Vestry men after a vacancy of more than two years agreed with a Mr. John Wade an itinerant preacher, ordained by the German Lutheran Ministry, to officiate in the Church for one year, as has been related by Doctor Collin in his history of the Swedish Mission. At the expiration of this period, the corporation on the 24th of October 1789, after some preliminary transactions engaged Mr. John Croes, the present rector, then a candidate for holy orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, to officiate on tryal as a Reader for six months; and on the 24th of January following they called him to the pastoral charge on condition that he obtain a regular ordination in the afore-said Episcopal Church, as by a certain Instrument of writing signed by the corporation (_ _ _ _). Mr. Croes having obtained ordination, on the 28th of February succeeding, became of course the regular Pastor of the church.

Editor's Note: All of the above was in the handwriting of the Rev. Mr. Croes.

Tuesday April 6, 1790

Let it be remembered, that tho' there is no record in this book of the annual meetings and elections of the Vestry during the Vacation, and the time that Mr. Wade officiated in the Church; yet that those meetings & Elections were held notwithstanding, and that the reason no record appears is this; The books and papers of the church were with Doctor Collin in Phila.

Tuesday April 8, 1792

As this church since the cessation of the Swedish Mission has united itself to the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, it of course is entitled to the privileges of said Church in this State (and) holds an annual Convention to which each congregation may send lay deputies. It had been resolved two years since to appoint deputies from this church to accompany the Rector to those Annual Conventions, but various reasons hitherto prevented the Rector's Attendance.

The following persons were appointed this year to represent this Church in the next State Convention - Capt. Felix Fisler & Mr. Andrew Hendrickson.

10 Dec. 1792

The Vestry met this day at the special request of the Rector. The business for which they were assembled was to take into consideration whether a sufficient time had not elapsed since the erection of the Church, for the people to recover from the burden it occasioned and if so whether it was not proper to endeavor to finish it. The Corporation having maturely deliberated on these subjects were unanimously of the opinion that the completion of the building ought not be delayed any longer. It was resolved therefore on motion of the Rector that a subscription should be draughted and circulated to raise money by voluntary contribution for this purpose -- and that four persons should be Chosen as managers to conduct the whole business. The Rector was requested to draught the subscription and present it on the succeeding New Years day for approbation, and himself, Col. Rob't Brown, Capt. Felix Fisler and Mr. Charles Lock were appointed the managers.

Tuesday 2 Ap'l 1793

The roof of the new church having been badly put on, it was resolved that the managers be directed to have it taken off and sold at Public Sale -- and procure materials for a new one.

Tuesday 22 Ap'l 1794

The Rector having stated to the corporation that his present salary on various accounts is inadequate to the support of his family and the members of the corporation (are) convinced of the truth of the representation.

Dec. 15, 1794

The Wardens and Vestry met by the request of the Rector. The cause for which they were convened was to take into consideration a Report made by the Rector of a daring and wicked attempt having been made by some diabolical incendiaries to burn the handsome and valuable church belonging to the Society -- and to take such measures as they should think most likely to discover and bring to punishment the perpetrators of this horrid deed. This attempt was made, it is supposed, on Friday night the 12th inst. and was discovered the next afternoon by the Sexton going in to sweep the church. The miscreant or miscreants broke a pane of glass on the north side of the building and introduced a large rag on fire which they placed on the window casing or seat, to which they added shavings and small pieces of boards and laths which apparently burned some time but by the interposition of a kind and protecting Providence it went out, without doing any damage.

The Wardens & Vestry men after deliberating on the subject resolved:

1. That a reward of One hundred pounds be offered by the Corporation to any person or persons who should give such information as would lead to a discovery of the perpetrator or perpetrators of so atrocious a deed, and that their Clerk should advertise accordingly.
2. That a committee should be appointed to take such measures for the discovery, as they should think proper. The committee appointed were Mr. Will. Matson, Mr. Andrew Hendrickson, Mr. Charles Lock, Capt. Gideon Denny, Capt. Felix Fisler.

Jan. 12, 1795

The Corporation assembled this day at the request of the Rector to take into consideration the state of the plantation at Pilesgrove and devise some means of coming to a settlement with the members of the Church at Pennsneck. (In 1721 the congregation of Raccoon and Pennsneck jointly purchased a plantation at Pilesgrove, Salem County, for the use of the minister. Both Churches had been united and were supplied by the same ministers from the time of their formation until the cessation of the Swedish Mission -- Ed.)

April 7, 1795

It was stated that: It shall be the duty of the Sexton to keep the grave yard in such repair, and secure the gate in such a manner that no cattle nor hogs at any time shall be suffered to enter it.

A motion was approved of, and lease given to him (the Rector) to build a kitchen for the parsonage of 18 feet by 20, and to use the surplus revenues for that purpose.

April 24, 1798

The Rector reported that he was prepared to furnish his account for erecting the kitchen to the parsonage house. The account being produced it appears that the total expense was 135 pounds, 6 shillings and 8½ pence, including the cost of the lower fence and some repairs to the house for which he was directed to be credited. It was found that there is due the Rector, the Rev'd John Croes, this day 172 pounds, 16 shillings and 5½ pence.

April 24, 1801

The Rector laid before the Corporation a second call which he had received from the Vestry of Christ Church (New Brunswick) and from the trustees of Queen's College at New Brunswick, and desired that the connection that subsisted between him and this Church might be dissolved. A committee was appointed to settle with him both as a Rector and manager for finishing the Church.

April 16, 1805

It was resolved that necessary repairs be performed for the preservation and improvement of the church.
(The church was to be repaired and painted inside and out. -- Ed.)

Dec. 6, 1809

The propriety of attempting by subscription to erect a steeple and furnish a Bell was taken into consideration. It was approved of but deemed inexpedient at present.

Easter Tuesday 1812

Application was made by the Trustees of the Swedesborough Academy for a deed confirming to them and their successors, a certain lot of ground which was formerly granted for the use of a school -- whereupon after some discussion it was on motion: Resolved that a deed for the property shall be given reserving the privilege of having the Rector one of the Trustees and of using the house for (a) singing school, prayer meetings, town meetings and elections in the house erected for the accommodation of the School.

Ash Wednesday 1816

The Vestry being detained, Mr. Gill (was given) leave to employ a surveyor if necessary to obtain an accurate draught of the town Lots, in order to make the arrangement of ground rents, as required, in conjunction with Mr. S. Vandyke.

Sept. 8, 1818

The Vestry was called together to make a compromise with certain persons who wished to run the road, so as to take off a considerable portion of the burial ground. It was determined for the present to take the fencing out of the way and fix upon the line at some future day.

Easter Tuesday April 13, 1819

Messrs. D. England, W. Dyer and S. Black were appointed a committee to build a wall for the grave yard, and to transact all business relating to the same.

Sept. 6, 1819

Resolved that Messrs. C. Lock, D. Wolf and M. Gill be a committee to have surveyed the church land near Swedesborough, and have suitable boundaries fixed.

Thursday Jan. 18, 1821

Sat. Feb. 17, 1821

Resolved that the Vestry put a new handle to the pump at the parsonage house and that they build a pen for hogs in the parsonage yard.

The resolution made last meeting respecting the house intended by divine permission to be built for the Sexton was reconsidered. And it was resolved that it be 16 feet square & 1½ story high & that the site be on the South Side of the road leading to Woodbury.

Jan. 4, 1827

The committee further report that they have examined the old house and are of the opinion that the new one to be erected, a different site should be chosen and further that they have made a bill for the frame 20 ft. by 31 ft. The report was agreed to and the Same committee directed to procure materials, employ workmen and take all the other necessary steps to have the house erected in the course of the ensuing Spring & Summer, upon the most judicious plan.

Note: This house was to be erected on the parsonage farm and was to be occupied by a tenant. It is not to be confused with the parsonage or rectory, occupied by the minister.

March 12, 1828

The Vestry met. The Rector stated that an attempt had been made by some evil disposed person to set fire to the Barn belonging to the Parsonage property. Coals had been conveyed in an oyster shell and placed among the litter on the ground and hay pulled over it, but owing to its being damp it did not communicate the fire. On motion it was resolved that the Wardens offer a reward of $200 for the apprehension and conviction of the incendiary.

Easter Tuesday April 8, 1828

The Treasurer reported the expense of the new building and improvements on the Parsonage Farm to be $1196.57. On motion resolved that the thanks of the congregation be given to the committee who superintended the building.

May 5, 1828

The Vestry met. After several unsuccessful attempts to burn the Church property, the Barn was destroyed on the evening of the 2nd inst. and it was deemed proper to meet and endeavor to ascertain the perpetrator of this base deed. No satisfactory testimony could however be obtained. It was on motion: Resolved that the Rector and C. C. Stratton Esq. be a committee to effect an insurance on the Church and Parsonage House for $4000. Resolved that a subscription be opened for the purpose of erecting a new Barn on the Parsonage lot.

Jan. 14, 1833

The committee on investments reported that they have found ground rent in the city of Phila. which yields 6 percent upon the principal invested & which may be purchased to any amount which this church may have to dispose of for a long term. The following resolution was then moved by Samuel Black & Seconded by Wm. W. England -- Resolved -- That a committee of three be appointed to invest the disposable funds of the church to the amount of $2000 in ground rent in the city of Phila. provided said rent be equal to 6 percent per annum.

Feb. 28, 1833

Resolved that the Wardens be authorized to procure two Astral Lamps for the use of the Church.

April 30, 1833

by completing the purchase of that Tract of land called the Groff place -- containing 122 acres of farm & 140 acres of woodland & that they have paid out of the funds of the Church the sum of $1500 in full for the same. Late owner of the place -- Mr. Thomas Ivins.

April 30, 1833

A note by Rev. N. Nash regarding the authority of the Corporation to collect money due it: A notion is entertained by some persons that the Record of our Charter of Incorporation was burned in Burlington during the Revolutionary War (or) that the original instrument is carefully concealed by one of our debtors (or) that we possess no certified copy of the same & therefore are incompetent to the collection of our dues. They are admonished of their error but still persist in it.

Sept. 3, 1833

The Rector presented his bill of $10.50 for expenses incurred in procuring a certified copy of our Charter of Incorporation, which was allowed. Also a Bill of $4.00 paid Jacob Howey for surveying & making a Map of the Town Lots under ground rents to this church in the Village of Swedesborough -- which was allowed.

Nov. 3, 1833

Joseph Batten & Wm. M. Groff withdrew from the communion of the church & were removed therefrom as our Charter contemplated (that) none but communicants (serve) as officers or even members of the corporation -- We therefore consider them, viz: Joseph Batten & William M. Groff as no longer entitled to Seats in this body as members thereof.

Feb. 17, 1834

The Committee of Investments reported -- That they have bargained with T. Ivins for what he estimated at 400 acres of land on both sides of Oldman's Creek including his homestead -- saw mill and timber land for the consideration of $7250 & that to enable the corporation to effect the payment, Samuel Black proposed to become joint partner in the purchase. It was then resolved unanimously -- That the proposals of Mr. Black be accepted & that the committee be authorized to complete the purchase upon the proposed plan & conditions.

Editor's Note: A survey of this land was made by Jacob Howey on Feb. 26, 1834.

March 3, 1834

The loaning of money by this Corporation among its own members has ever been a source of serious inconvenience to this Church since the plan was adopted by Mr. Croes in 1795, since which this community has never known peace. Many abortive attempts have been made from time to time to collect the funds & invest them elsewhere, which only served to inflame the passions of the factions & stir up enemies to the Church & to its Ministry. The long desired object is at last accomplished without loss to the Church or damage to its debtors; but not without the most strenuous persevering & painful exertion & the giving of much offence to those indebted & to others who wished to become so. The removing of the present Rector will doubtless be his reward in this world.

(Signed) Norman Nash

March 19, 1834

Resolved that we view with deep regret & entire disapprobation the conduct of our Right Rev'd Diocesan Geo. W. Doane -- in that he has restored to our communion without inquiry, four persons whom we believe to have been justly repelled therefrom by our Pastor & in that he has so far listened to the voice of a faction and to call a council contrary to the true meaning & intention of the canons of the Church & to the wishes of all parties truly concerned in the matter. But most of all, in that he has attempted to appoint an improper time for administering the Lord's Supper in our Church with a view as we believe, to the promotion of unrighteous party plans to the unspeakable injury of the Church. Wherefore it was further, Resolved -- That the Church may not be used for such unhallowed purposes & that Samuel Black, Jesse Avis, Abraham Nelson, Samuel Lock, and Benjamin Black be a committee to make known to the Bishop the determination of this body, & see that all things be arranged accordingly.

Editor's Note: The above situation caused a serious split not only among the Wardens and Vestrymen but the congregation itself. Many people refused to attend services conducted by the Reverend Nash. This also resulted in charges being brought against Reverend Nash and his eventual resignation.

July 14, 1834

The vestry of Trinity Church, Swedesboro under the provisions of the canons prefer to Bishop the following charges against the Rev. Norman Nash, late Rector elect & minister of said church. They charge him: (condensed from the records)

(This formed the vestibule as it may be seen today -- 1975.)

Oct. 20, 1834

The vestry met this day in the church pursuant to notice. After proper prayer, the minutes of the last meeting were read. Mr. Woart (read) a communication as coming from certain gentlemen, the friends of the Rev'd Nash (who) having possession of the books and other property of the church offered to surrender the same upon condition that the changes preferred by the vestry against Mr. Nash be withdrawn. It was then on motion resolved that as an act of conciliation on the part of the vestry, and in order to promote peace and harmony in the congregation, the vestry agree to withdraw the changes heretofore preferred to the Bishop against the Rev'd. Resolved to sell by public sale the old parsonage house and a lot of land forty seven feet wide for the sum of $450 at the least, but to get as much more as possible.

Feb. 21, 1848

A preamble and Resolutions were read and adopted respecting the formation and management of a Parish Library as follows: -- Whereas an effort has recently been made to procure a Library for the use of this congregation and some books have been procured for that purpose and given in charge of the Rector to be by him loaned to the people of the Parish. And whereas this Vestry is deeply impressed with the great importance of having a well chosen Free Library, more especially of Religious Books that thus the congregation generally may have the means of acquiring information concerning doctrines, discipline & history of the Church to which we belong as well as other useful knowledge. Therefore, -- Resolved that we take the said Parish Library under our especial care as part of the property of the congregation which we represent and most strongly recommend it to the members of the congregation as worthy of their patronage and contributions for its increase. Resolved that its location shall be in the Vestry Room of the Church from which never to be removed except by vote of this body. Resolved that the management of the Library be in the hands of the Rector, to be by him loaned gratuitously to the congregation, under such Rules as he shall deem best.

Aug. 4, 1851

The committee appointed to put a new roof on the Church reported that in their Enquiries on the subject they were induced to believe that a slate roof could be constructed at a cost not much if any, exceeding that of the best cedar shingles and as no other than wood was intended at the time of their appointment they had concluded to ask the advice and further discretion of the Vestry. Whereupon it was on motion resolved, that the committee be authorized to exercise their discretion in the premises.

Batten and Thomas Gaskill be a committee to attend to and have a portico and back kitchen built to the parsonage house according to their own judgement.

March 1, 1859

It was resolved to employ Miss Clara Barton to play on the AEolian for one year from the 1st of April 1859. Salary to be $100. per annum. Resolved that the Room over the Vestry room be fitted up for Miss Barton to teach a day School. Resolved that a committee be appointed to see what the cost would be to have the bell recast.

Editor's Note: It was at first believed by the compiler that the above entry possibly could have referred to the famous Clara Barton, widely known for her part in the founding of the American Red Cross. She was also an avowed advocate of free public schools and had conducted a school at Burlington, New Jersey after 1851. She later obtained a position at the Patent Office in Washington, D. C. but had returned to her home in Oxford, Massachusetts, in ill health, in 1858. The possibility existed that she could have agreed to play the Aeolian and teach a school at Trinity Church in 1859, and an investigation was begun to examine that possibility.

At the request of the compiler, Mr. John C. Broderick, chief of Reference Department, Manuscript Division, of the Library of Congress, conducted a search at the library of the papers and diaries of Clara Barton and particularly the entries that covered the period from January 31, 1859 to December 4, 1859. He state that "The entries are very sporadic and describe her home activities in Massachusetts and a Western trip apparently as far as Chicago. A cursory examination of the entries reveals no apparent direct mention of Swedesboro, New Jersey, or the State of New Jersey."

No other reference, other than that recorded on March 1, 1859, was made in the minutes of the Vestry meetings. However, the Church records for 1860, contain the names of Clara Barton and Adaline Barton on the list of communicants for that year. No connection between the famous Clara Barton and the Clara and Adaline Barton in the church records could be determined and further investigation appeared unwarranted.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

"The Records of The Swedish Lutheran Churches At Raccoon And Penn's Neck" were translated and compiled by the Federal Writers' Project of the Works Progress Administration, State of New Jersey. They covered the period from 1713 to 1786 and were published in 1938. The last baptism recorded in this book for the Raccoon Church was in 1783. The first baptism that was recorded in Book 2 of the church books containing the Episcopal records, was in 1788. Baptisms for the years 1784, 1785, 1786, and 1787 are not recorded in either book. According to Reverend Croes, the books and papers of the church were in Philadelphia with Dr. Collin for several years and the church was without a pastor for at least part of this period.

Editor's Note: No Baptismal records could be found for the years 1824, 1825, 1826, 1827, 1828, and 1829. Read the following statement for an explanation.

These Records were mutilated by some evil disposed person when the house was entered in the absence of the Rector. The late Baptisms and Marriages were inserted in a small book pro. tem. with the hope that the last pages might be recovered, but this book also cannot be now found, and the late record at present must be imperfect.

Of this list, 22 have been received by the Rev. N. Nash since he took charge of this Church on Jan. 1, 1830.

Flick, Sarah -- Flick, Mary -- Flick, Ann

These three were repelled by the Rev. N. Nash for protracted enmity against himself and other members of the Church -- neglect of the word and ordinances of God in the Church of which they were members and refusing to be reconciled. They were restored by Bp. Doane on the ground of "The insufficiency of charges", without inquiry.

Swedesboro', 12 Feb. 1835

To The Rev. L. Woart

A board of inquiry into the case of Mr. W. W. England, repelled from the Communion by the Rev. N. Nash having been held, and then report having been made to me, the charges presented against him are not sustained by evidence, you will restore him to the Communion.

G. W. Doane, Bishop

Rev. J. Loring Woart ordered Priest Feb. 12, 1835

Right Rev. G. W. Doane, D. D. presented by Rev. Herman Hooker

Swedesborough

The Rev. J. Loring Woart of the Virginia Diocese took charge of this Church, Oct. 5, 1834. This book with others was placed in his hands, Oct. 20, 1834 at which time the troubles existing in the Church were settled (because papers in my hands, signed by the Bp. so state). In conscience I am bound to say that persons repelled from the Communion were repelled unjustly. They were reinstated by the Rt. Rev. G. W. Doane.

Let the individuals who may read the records of Rev. Norman Nash both here and elsewhere, remember that the concluding years of his ministry were marked by contention, turmoil and bitter party spirit.

Let a veil be drawn over the past.

OBITUARY

At the close of Sunday, July 22, commenced the eternal Sabbath of Mrs. Rebecca Frisby Wilmer, consort of Rev. Simon Wilmer, Rector of Trinity Church, Swedesborough, New Jersey. She was interred on the day following at Swedesborough. The funeral service was accompanied with an appropriate and impressive discourse in the church, from the words, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord," to a large and distressed congregation by the Rev. Benjamin Allen of Philadelphia, and an affecting exhortation at the grave, by the Rev. Wm. Bryant, Rector of the Church at Berkeley.

Lest it should be supposed that the within Obituary is too highly coloured by the feelings of an affectionate and deeply afflicted husband whose loss seems irreparable, I think it proper to state that during a residence of nearly five years in Swedesborough from July 1829, I have without exception, received from all who knew that excellent woman and with whom I conversed upon the subject the same character as that which is sketched within. I do this partly to apologise for fixing this as a page in the book of registry of the church and partly to encourage the wives of succeeding clergymen to "go and do likewise".

The death of the Hon. Charles Stratton, brother of the above, should have been inserted near the beginning of the previous page, but has been omitted by oversight. He was formerly a member of the congregation from this district and afterwards Governor of New Jersey. He was a man of unblemished character, affable, kind and generous and stood very high in the estimation of his fellow countrymen. He died shortly after his return from travelling in Europe and the Holy Land. His funeral took place April 3, 1859. He was an exemplary Christian and the loss to this Church by his death was irreparable.
